2. Learning Outcomes

Learning Outcomes

The objective of the course is to present, in a comprehensive and at the same time intelligible manner, the institutional framework underlying the most important thematic areas – parts of Commercial Law, so that students obtain, as far as possible, an all-inclusive depiction of how the real economy and the market operate. In this context, it is expected that students will:

- comprehend how a commercial business (sole proprietorship or corporate) operates as well as the wider environment in which it operates;
- acquire the ability to synthesize the acquired knowledge in order to solve practical problems and adequately deal with case studies discussed in the course

General Competences

- Analytical skills and critical thinking
- Deductive reasoning
- Ability to place facts within the scope of rules
- Development and supporting of arguments in order to resolve problems

3. Syllabus

Course content

- Introduction to law and commercial law – commercialism and law
- The concept of “enterprise” and basic principles of labor law
- Associations of persons – companies and basic principles governing legal entities
- The “association” and the “civil company”: fundamental principles

- Partnerships
- Capital companies
- Securities
- Industrial property
- Unfair competition and consumer protection
- Free competition
